The cup, which by means of Essex B.'s disqualification should have been awarded to Coyote, who was second, was given by the latter's owner to Mr. Hauck. Coyote is owned by S. Van Schaick. Martin J. Aylward's Rosebank was third.

The third race, a three mile steeplechase, for green or qualified hunters, was a practical walkover, all the horses balking at the first jump but Vanity. Vanity, owned by Martin J. Aylward, won, with Leonce Fuller's Golden Arms second. The race for polo ponies, ridden during the season of 1907, was a very close one, Peter Hauck's Fancy winning. Marie Delaney, owned and ridden by James H. Mulchay, was second. When half around the track Mulchay and his mount went down. He was not long in regaining his mount, however, and caught the field in short order, finishing second. Mulchay said he was bumped twice by the rider of Fancy and the protest will be left to the stewards of the club. Mike, a bronco owned by C. Mullin, was third.

The fifth and last race of the day was for bona fide hunters and was won by Singleton Van Schaick's Adjutor. Spende, owned by John Hastings, was second.

form, with a good sheer and freeboard. The launch is 35 feet over all, 34 feet 10 inches on the water line, 4 feet 3 inches beam and 21 inches draft under the propeller. The construction of the bull, while not being heavy, will be substantial, and great strength will be obtained by a system of internal stringers and transverse bracings that will relieve the planking from all strains and stresses except that due to the upward pressure of the water.

The keel stem and stern posts are to be of white oak and the frames are selected white oak, which are to be planed, steamed and bent to form from gunwale to gunwale. The floor timbers are to be white oak and the planking double, cedar inside and mahogany outside.

There will be one open cockp't is feet inches long with a transverse bulkhead 8 feet 6 inches from the forward end firmly connecting with the sides of the hull. The portion of the cockpit forward of this bulkhead will be for the engine and there will be lots of space around the motor so as to permit easy inspection of all its parts. The steering wheel, operating levers of the engine and a seat for the helmsman will be in the forward end. The after part, 8 feet long, will have one seat across the after end and rattan chairs for the owner and his guests. This boat is to be driven by a Mercedes 20-24 motor, which will drive a Gielow propeller 1.100 revolutions a minute. The boat will be ready for delivery by May 15.

NEWS OF THE ATHLETES. New York University to Join A. A. U

-English Medals for Americans. There is a report that New York University will soon apply for membership in the Amateur Athletic Union, and this neans that in future the athletes belonging to that institution will represent it in al open sports and not local athletic clubs, as they have been doing for a number of years It is a move in the right direction, the A.A. U officials think, and they will be pleased to see the college men wearing their college colors and nothing else. If a college has nembership in the A. A. U. it will not in the ntercollegiate Association or detract from ts interest in college sports.

There is nothing now, of course, to prevent a college man from competing for his from the Metropolitan championship, where only athletes whose club or association holds membership are entitled to representation. Were the collèges members of the A. A. U. the athletes gould compete in the district championship and all the glory won would go to the alma mater, where it properly belonged. But the biggest benefit to ama-teur sport from a college membership in the A. A. U. would be that it would stop the athletic club recruiting of the college men. Heretofore, and even now, the very minute he college term is over the experts of the clubs swoop down on the available college naretial to strengthen their tottering ranks, and the practice has reached such a stage that it brought forth special legislation on the part of the A. A. U. Even this did not stop the wholesale drafting.

Word comes from England that the American athletes who made records in the Eng-lish championships and the Olympic games will all be presented with record medals. In the English championship which preeded the Olympiad by about a week Simor will all be presented with record medals. In the English championship which preceded the Olympiad by about a week Simon P. Gillies of the New York A. C. made a new British record with the 16 pound hammer, his throw being 164 feet 5% inches, and for this he will get a special medal and a standard medal for having beaten 37 feet in the 16 pound shot. E. T. Archibald of Canada will get a record medal in the pole vault. A long string of Olympic records was accepted. John J. Flanagan will get a medal for his hammer throw of 170 feet 4% inches, and Forrest Smithson will get a special for what was really the greatest performance of the meeting—that of running the 110 meter hurdles in the phenomenal time of 15 seconds. Others in line for medals are Bacon in the 400 meter hurdles; Sheppard, 800 meters: Irons, broad jump; Porter, high jump; Gilbert and Cooke, pole vault.

The indoor aquatic season which is scheduled to get under way next month will doubtless unveil many interesting struggles in the water. New Yorkers will surely have an opportunity of seeing Charles L. Brown, the new plunging wonder of the West. Not long ago while practising Brown went a distance of 81 feet within the limit of one minute and this is a long way ahead of anything so far seen on this side of the pond, and its merits can best be calculated when it is understood that the world's record is 82 feet 7 inches by W. Taylor of England in 1906. Brown holds the present American record of 74 feet, but what is most remarkable about him is that he has been at the game less than a year, and began to plunge more for want of pastime than with any intention of becoming a champion. He tried the game less than a year, and began to plunge more for want of pastime than with any intention of the conditions of 71 feet, but what is most remarkable about him is that he has been at the game less than a year, and began to plunge more for want of pastime than with any intention of the conditions of 71 feet, beating the old mark of 70 feet 6 inches, held by E. H. Adams

TRAP SHOOTING.

In the scratch event of twenty-five targets, which gave the clay experts a warming up practice, he made 25 straight and it went on the tice, he made 25 straight and it went on the score card as the keenest work of the day. Billings, the scratch man, was a good second as far as marksmanship was concerned, for he made 24 out of the 25 three times in succession. The second event won by Hodgman was remarkable for close work. It was a twenty-five target handicap, and when the last clay had been trapped it was found that five men were a dead heat for first. These, with their handicaps, were: Hodgman, 2; Crowe, 4; T. Levane, Jr., 5; N. V. Levane, 2, and Daniels, 5-all having made the full score of 25. In the shootoff they tied again with the full score of 25. Daniels did not go to the traps in the second shootoff, and Hodgman, whose handicap was reduced to 1, won with a total of 23. G. Fred Pelham, E. W. Billings and T. N. Crowo were the other winners.

ONE PESIGN 16 FOOTERS.

Members of the Manchester Yacht Club are to have a class of small boats for racing next season, and work on these will soon start at Rice Bros.' yard at East Boothbay, Me. These boats, which are from the design of B. B. Crowninshield, appear to be one of the finest classes of one design boats ever turned out.

The boats, which will be 25 feet 10 inches over all, 17 feet 5 inches water line, 6 feet 3 inches beam and 4 feet 3 inches draught, are designed somewhat after the rating rule. The boats will have fuller ends than if built to the universal rule, but otherwise they are virtually 16 raters.

All ballast will be outside, with 1,400 pounds in the keel, and they will earry 310 feet of canwas, 244 feet in the mainsail and 66 feet in the jib. 'They will have watertight cockpits and small cabins.

Already contracts for five boats have been signed, these being for Francis W. Fayban, A. C. Needham, George Lee, George Wigglesworth and Charles E. Hodges. It is expected that at least ten more members of the club will have boats built, and it is hoped that rully twenty boats will be in the racing next summer.

This one design class was decided upon start at Rice Bros. yard at East Booth-racing next summer.

This one design class was decided upon at the annual meeting of the club late in the summer, and a committee composed of George W. Mansfield, A. C. Needham and Charles E. Hodges was appeared to take charge for the club.

HORSEMEN GETTING READY TO SHIP TO CALIFORNIA.

ikely to Stay on the Coast Next Seas Unless There is a Great Change in Conditions Here—Match Talked Of Between Wise Mason and Waponece lecal racing season, which will come to an end next Wednesday. When the sport was over a number of horsemen began to make over a number of norsemen began to make preparations to leave with their racers for Oakland, where the California season opens on November 7, while Santa Anita begins operations on November 26. Among these horsemen the opinion prevailed that they would remain on the Coast all next season. racing at Seattle and other tracks in the Northwest rather than come East and tackle cheap purses if racing in any form should be resumed on the local courses. It was about the dullest day ever experienced by local racegoers. The weather was wintry and only a handful of layers were on hand to accept oral wagers. There were so few bettors present that speculation was prac tically nothing. The crowd huddled in the huge grand stand while the races were under way and then moved about rapidly to keep the blood in circulation. When the last race was over the rush for the cars was of a headlong nature, the regulars being glad to get away from the lonely place.

After Waponoca had won the two-yearold handicap, the Newcastle Stable people believed that Wise Mason could have won with a better ride on the part of Notter In the course of the discussion as to the merits of these two-year-olds there was talk of a match race between them at the same weights for $1,000 a side. If the match this week after the regular season closes. Notter, by the way, put up a queer look-ing ride on Woodlane in the fifth race. He nor rice on Woodlane in the fifth race. He took the filly wide at the head of the stretch when in front and let Notasulga come through. Then when the latter faltered Notter went on about his business, but Hoyal Onyx closed with a gallant rush and beat. Woodlane by a length. The success of Royal Onyx was the signal-for a demonstration by a number of Italian citizens from Mulberry Bend, who came to the track to take part in the good thing. Owner Molinelli fairly leaped for joy. It was said that Royal Onyx had been well played in the poolrooms and handbooks.

Frank Weir experienced some more hard luck with his filly Fancy in the third race. He put Bergen in-the saddle and the latter made a mess of it, for he kept Fancy in the middle of the track, carrying Mombassa wide, and then putting up such a weak finish that imitator beat the Whitney castoff in the final strides. Ever since he purchased Fancy Weir has been trying to put her over the plate. He was confident that she was in the right spot yesterday.

Julius Bauer, like Weir, had been trying to win with Raquel all season, but it was net until the last race that he succeeded in getting the daughter of Previous—Hatasoo over the pan. Raquel only won by a head, too, but to Bauer that was, as good as half a, mile.

The breeding bureau of the Jockey Club has made five entries for the best thoroughbred stallion class at the National Horse Show. The stallions that will appear at the Garden are Watercolor. Rensselaer, Shot Gun, Advance Guard and Accountant. James McLauchlin will leave in about ten days for Los Angeles with Oxford, Campaigner, Lally, Waponoca, Arondack, Great Jubilee and a number of yearlings. He thinks that Oxford will win some good races on the Coast.

COLUMBIA ELIGIBLES. Names of Men Competent to Play or

The Columbia University committee on athletics, which has charge of the eligibility of all Columbia athletes, held its first meetin regard to the publication of the name of the men eligible to compete on the various Columbia teams. Heretofore the managers of the teams in many cases neglected filing the eligibility certificates of the men on the team until it was about time to play an important game or to go on a trip. This meant that the committee had to hold special meetings to consider the applica-tions, and in a few cases where men were declared temporarily inslighble because the tions, and in a few cases where men were declared temporarily ineligible because the committee did not have time to look into their records considerable friction resulted between the chairman and the manager involved.

Beginning this year, according to the new plan, the names of all men declared eligible will be posted in the registrar's office and all applications must be filed at least ten days before the opening game of the season of the particular team. Men whose names are not posted will not be allowed to engage in any contest representing Columbia.

The committee for the coming year is composed of the following: A. W. Putnam. '97, chairman: F. A. Dickey, '07, secretary: Prof. H. G. Lord, Prof. G. L. Meylan, R. B. Bartholomew, '03: W. G. Paimer, '07: J. Ryan, '09, and B. Sanders, '09. Victor H. Mapes, '91, who held the intercollegiate broad jump championship in 1891, was appointed graduate director of the track team for the coming year.

TO RELEASE MANY BALLOONS. Fine Display Arranged by the Aeronautie Society for Election Day.

be towed around the track by two automobies.

The motorcycle championship races are well filled and the star entries include Fred Huyck, who holds all records from five miles up to one hour: Walter Goerke of the National Athletic Club. Brooklyn, holder of the five mile record; Stanley Kellogg, the Bridgeport crack, the 160 mile record holder, and A. d.; Shappell of the New York Motorcycle Club.

Prof. A. J. Henry, the executive officer in charge of the Government Weather Bureau exhibitions, has added some new features, one of which will be a 12 foot balloon which they use for getting upper air records. A big hydrogen gas plant has been installed at the Morris Park aerodrome for the purpuse of inflating this and other balloons.

Big Class to Be Built for Racing by BOATHOUSE FOR TIGER CREWS. Class of 1887 Ready to Give a Structure

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 31 .- The rewing folks at Princeton are making extensive plans. A temporary wooden bosthouse lake, but it is not half well enough equipped to meet the growing needs of the sport. A new cement and steel building costing about new cement and steel building costing about $25,000 will be presented before long, it is expected, by the class of '87. The house will be built on the open plot just east of Washington road close to the bridge, where it will be admirably situated both for its easy access and splendid site.

Some friend also has promised a coaching launch. This is badly needed, for the craft now ig use is not adequate.

Some eighty-odd men are being worked every afternoon in the shells, of which there are four eight oared and four four oard. The machines, too, are used all the time.

BAR MIXED CLASS RACING.

Massachusetts Asseciation Adopts New Rules, but Not One Relating to Yawis.

The Massachusetts Yacht Racing Association at its annual meeting adopted the amended rules as passed by the Atlantic coast conference, but with the exception of that which rated yawis as 93 per cent. and schoonars at 90 per cent. of their full rating. This matter was threshed out about two years ago, when B. B. Crowning allow the class but would be able to conform to the measurement rule with her allowance for rigs.

The chief objection at that time was that the real status of a yawi was not defined, and there were grave fears that boats which were really sloops would have a small ligger installed and with a handkerchief for an after sail would qualify as yawis.

The meeting of the association settled the matter so far as Massachusetts Bay racing is concerned and will not permit yawis or schooners to race against soops tales.

As one designed would be no sloops built for the rating classes where they would be in competition with yawis and schooners which were made by the Atlantic coast conference there would be no sloops which were made they was and schooners which were made by the Atlantic coast conference there would be in competition with yawis and schooners which were made by the Atlantic coast conference there would be with the allowance for rigs racing and stated that he would not care to design a sloop to race against a yawi under the broad interpretation of the amendment was not defined and there were grave fears that boats which were really sloops would have a small ligger installed and with a handkerchief for an after sail would qualify as yawis.

The meeting of the association settled the matter so far as Massachusetts Bay racing is concerned and will not permit yawis or schooners to race against soops tales.

As one designed expressed him self: "If the smealment was adopted as passed by the conference there would be not slooped to the class on the real rating."

The meeting of the association settled
